

Hey Theo,

Just checking in about your progress on the story and the audio files for Come Home Samantha. I know I emailed you the title shots just a day ago, I'm just excited to finally be working on this! Uh, one thing I did want to ask though, was who you got to do the audio for Samantha's screaming? I know we didn't talk ahead of time about it, and I entrusted it to you, but listening to it back a couple times since you sent it to me, the screaming is very authentic, and sounds like only a professional could do it. I'm just a bit worried about the costs of the voice actor, considering we don't exactly have the money for the best graphics or anything like that... Just let me know when you have the chance, and I'll add it to our budget. They're just too good to axe!

Thanks,
